Plaintiff, Peter Lopez (“Plaintiff”), by his attorneys Slater Slater Schulman LLP and Certain & Zilberg, PLLC, brings this action against the Diocese of Brooklyn and Queens (“Diocese”) and St. Agnes Roman Catholic Church (“Church”) and alleges on personal knowledge as to himself/herself and on information and belief as to all other matters as follows:

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. This action is brought pursuant to the Children Victims Act (“CVA”) (L. 2019 c. 11). See CPLR § 214-g and 22 NYCRR 202.72.
2. This Court has personal jurisdiction over the Diocese pursuant to CPLR §§ 301 and 302, in that the Diocese either resides in New York or conducts or, at relevant times conducted, activities in New York that give rise to the claims asserted herein.
3. This Court has personal jurisdiction over the Church pursuant to CPLR §§ 301 and 302, in that the Church either resides in New York or conducts or, at relevant times conducted, activities in New York that give rise to the claims asserted herein.

4. This Court has jurisdiction over this action because the amount of damages Plaintiff seeks exceeds the jurisdictional limits of all lower courts which would otherwise have jurisdiction.

5. Venue for this action is proper in the County of Kings pursuant to CPLR § 503 in that Plaintiff and one or more of defendants resides in this County, and a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claims asserted herein occurred here.

PARTIES

6. Whenever reference is made to any defendant entity, such reference includes that entity, its parent companies, subsidiaries, affiliates, predecessors, and successors. In addition, whenever reference is made to any act, deed, or transaction of any entity, the allegation means that the entity engaged in the act, deed, or transaction by or through its officers, directors, agents employees, or representatives while they were actively engaged in the management, direction, control, or transaction of the entity's business affairs.

7. Plaintiff is an individual residing in Kings County, New York. Plaintiff was an infant at the time of the sexual abuse alleged herein.

8. At all times material to the Verified Complaint, the Diocese was and continues to be a non-profit religious corporation, organized exclusively for charitable, religious, and educational purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

9. At all times material to the Verified Complaint, the Diocese was and remains authorized to conduct business under the laws of the State of New York.

10. At all times material to the Verified Complaint, the Diocese's principal place of business is 310 Prospect Park West, Brooklyn, NY 11215.

11. The Diocese oversees a variety of liturgical, sacramental, educational and faith formation programs.

12. The Diocese has various programs that seek out the participation of children in its activities.

13. The Diocese, through its agents, servants, and/or employees has control over those activities involving children.

14. The Diocese has the power to employ individuals working with and/or alongside children, providing said children with guidance and/or instruction under the auspices of the defendant Diocese, including but not limited to those at the Church.

15. At all times material to the Verified Complaint, the Church was and continues to be a religious New York State non-profit entity.

16. At all times material to the Verified Complaint, the Church maintained its principal place of business at 433 Sackett Street, Brooklyn, NY 11231.

17. At all times material to the Verified Complaint, the Church is a parish operating under the control of the Diocese.

18. At all times material to the Verified Complaint, the Church is a parish operating for the benefit of the Diocese.

19. At all times material to the Verified Complaint, Father Eugene A. Connolly (“Father Connolly”) was an agent, servant, and/or employee of the Church.

20. At all times material to the Verified Complaint, Father Connolly was an agent, servant, and/or employee of the Diocese.

21. At all times material to the Verified Complaint, while an agent, servant and/or employee of the Church, Father Connolly remained under the control and supervision of the Diocese.

22. At all times material to the Verified Complaint, while an agent, servant and/or employee of the Church, Father Connolly remained under the control and supervision of the Church.

23. At all times material to the Verified Complaint, while an agent, servant and/or employee of the Diocese, Father Connolly remained under the control and supervision of the Diocese.

24. At all times material to the Verified Complaint, while an agent, servant and/or employee of the Diocese, Father Connolly remained under the control and supervision of the Church.

25. The Church placed Father Connolly in positions where he had immediate access to children.

26. The Diocese placed Father Connolly in positions where he had immediate access to children.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH'S LONG HISTORY OF COVERING UP CHILD SEXUAL ABUSE

27. In 1962, the Vatican in Rome issued a Papal Instruction binding upon all Bishops throughout the world including the Bishop of the Diocese. The instruction was binding upon the Bishop of the Diocese. The instruction directed that allegations and reports of sexual abuse of children by priests were required to be kept secret and not disclosed either to civil authorities such as law enforcement, to co-employees or supervisors of parish priests, or to parishioners generally.

28. Canon law requires Bishops to keep subsecreto files also known as confidential files. These files are not to be made public.

29. Because of problems of sexual misconduct of Catholic clergy, the Catholic Church and other organizations sponsored treatment centers for priests that had been involved in sexual misconduct, including centers in Albuquerque, New Mexico, Suitland, Maryland, Downington Pennsylvania, and Ontario, Canada.

30. Sexual abuse of members of the public by Catholic clergy and agents of the Church has been a reality in the Catholic Church for centuries but has remained concealed by a pattern and practice of secrecy. This secrecy is rooted in the official policies of the Catholic Church which are applicable to all dioceses and in fact are part of the practices of each diocese, including the Diocese. Sexual abuse of minors by Catholic clergy and religious leaders became publicly known in the mid 1980's as a result of media coverage of a case in Lafayette, Louisiana. Since that time, the media has continued to expose cases of clergy sexual abuse throughout the United States. In spite of these revelations as well as the many criminal and civil legal actions the Church has been involved in as a result of sexual abuse of minors by clergy and other agents of the Church, the bishops and other Church leaders continued to pursue a policy of secrecy.

31. All of the procedures required in the so-called "Dallas Charter" to purportedly protect children have been previously mandated in the Code of Canon Law but were consistently ignored by Catholic bishops. In place of the required processes, which would have kept a written record of cases of clergy sexual abuse, the bishops applied a policy of clandestine transfer of accused priests from one local or diocesan assignment to another or from one diocese to another. The receiving parishioners and often the receiving pastors were not informed of any accusations of sexual abuse of minors.

32. The truth concerning the extent of the frequency of sexual abuse at the hands of Catholic priests, other clergy and agents of the Church and Catholic Church's pervasive campaign to cover up such crimes continues to be revealed. In 2018, the State of Pennsylvania released a grand jury report releasing the name of over 300 "predator priests" in Pennsylvania alone who committed acts of sexual abuse on more than a thousand children, while also noting that there were “likely thousands more victims whose records were lost or who were too afraid to come forward.”

The report’s opening remarks bear repeating here:

We, the members of this grand jury, need you to hear this. We know some of you have heard some of it before. There have been other reports about child sex abuse within the Catholic Church. But never on this scale. For many of us, those earlier stories happened someplace else, someplace away. Now we know the truth: it happened everywhere.

Most of the victims were boys; but there were girls too. Some were teens; many were prepubescent. Some were manipulated with alcohol or pornography. Some were made to masturbate their assailants or were groped by them. Some were raped orally, some vaginally, some anally. But all of them were brushed aside, in every part of the state, by church leaders who preferred to protect the abusers and their institution above all.

33. The 2018 grand jury report found numerous, pervasive strategies employed by the Catholic Church which the report referred to collectively as a “playbook for concealing the truth.”

These measures include but are not limited to the following:

- Make sure to use euphemisms rather than real words to describe the sexual assaults in diocese documents. Never say “rape”; say “inappropriate contact” or “boundary issues.”
- Don’t conduct genuine investigations with properly trained personnel. Instead, assign fellow clergy members to ask inadequate questions and then make credibility determinations about the colleagues with whom they live and work.
- For an appearance of integrity, send priests for “evaluation” at church-run psychiatric treatment centers. Allow these experts to “diagnose” whether the priest was a pedophile, based largely on the priest’s “self-reports” and regardless of whether the priest had actually engaged in sexual contact with a child.
- When a priest does have to be removed, don’t say why. Tell his parishioners that he is on “sick leave,” or suffering from “nervous exhaustion.” Or say nothing at all.

- Even if a priest is raping children, keep providing him housing and living expenses, although he may be using these resources to facilitate more sexual assaults.
- If a predator's conduct becomes known to the community, don't remove him from the priesthood to ensure that no more children will be victimized. Instead, transfer him to a new location where no one will know he is a child abuser.
- Finally, and above all, don't tell the police. Child sexual abuse, even short of actual penetration, is and has for all relevant times been a crime. But don't treat it that way; handle it like a personnel matter, "in house."

34. Refusal to disclose sexually abusing clerics to parishioners and even fellow clerics has been one way utilized by Defendant to maintain secrecy. Another has been to use various forms of persuasion on victims or their families to convince them to remain silent about incidents of abuse. These forms of persuasion have included methods that have ranged from sympathetic attempts to gain silence to direct intimidation to various kinds of threats. In so doing the clergy involved, from bishops to priests, have relied on their power to overwhelm victims and their families.

35. The sexual abuse of children and the Catholic Church's abhorrent culture of concealing these crimes are at the heart of the allegations complained of herein.

36. The Child Victims Act was enacted for the explicit purpose of providing survivors of child sexual abuse with the recourse to bring a private right of action against the sexual predators who abused them and the institutions that concealed their crimes.

FACTS

37. Plaintiff was raised in a devout Roman Catholic family and, in or around 1963 when Plaintiff was approximately 5 years old, Plaintiff began attending the Church, a church within and under the auspices of the Diocese.

38. At all relevant times, Plaintiff participated in youth activities and church activities at the Church.

39. The Plaintiff received educational and religious instruction from the Church.

40. Father Connolly, under the auspices of the Church and Diocese, provided educational and religious instruction to the infant Plaintiff.

41. During and through these activities, Plaintiff, as a minor and vulnerable child, was dependent on the Church and Father Connolly.

42. During and through these activities, the Church had custody of Plaintiff and accepted the entrustment of Plaintiff.

43. During and through these activities, the Church had assumed the responsibility of caring for Plaintiff and had authority over him.

44. During and through these educational and religious instructional activities, Plaintiff, as a minor and vulnerable child, was dependent on the Diocese and Father Connolly.

45. During and through these activities, the Diocese had custody of Plaintiff and accepted the entrustment of Plaintiff.

46. During and through these activities, the Diocese had responsibility of Plaintiff and authority over him.

47. Through Father Connolly's positions at, within, or for the Church, Father Connolly was put in direct contact with Plaintiff, a member of the Church. It was under these circumstances that Plaintiff came to be under the direction, contact, and control of Father Connolly, who used his position of authority and trust over Plaintiff to sexually abuse and harass Plaintiff.

48. Through Father Connolly's positions at, within, or for the Diocese, Father Connolly was put in direct contact with Plaintiff, a member of the Church. It was under these circumstances that Plaintiff came to be under the direction, contact, and control of Father Connolly, who used his position of authority and trust over Plaintiff to sexually abuse and harass Plaintiff.

49. On repeated occasions, while Plaintiff was a minor, Father Connolly, while acting as a priest, counselor, teacher, trustee, director, officer, employee, agent, servant and/or volunteer of the Church, sexually assaulted, sexually abused and/or had sexual contact with Plaintiff in violation of the laws of the State of New York, including the New York State Penal Law.

50. On repeated occasions, while Plaintiff was a minor, Father Connolly, while acting as a priest, counselor, teacher, trustee, director, officer, employee, agent, servant and/or volunteer of the Diocese, sexually assaulted, sexually abused and/or had sexual contact with Plaintiff in violation of the laws of the State of New York, including the New York State Penal Law.

51. The abuse occurred from approximately in or about 1966 to 1967.

52. Plaintiff's relationship to the Church, as a vulnerable minor, parishioner and participant in Church educational and religious instructional activities, was one in which Plaintiff was subject to the Church's ongoing influence. The dominating culture of the Catholic Church over Plaintiff pressured Plaintiff not to report Father Connolly's sexual abuse of him.

53. Plaintiff's relationship to the Diocese, as a vulnerable minor, parishioner and participant in Church educational and religious instructional activities, was one in which Plaintiff was subject to the Diocese's ongoing influence. The dominating culture of the Catholic Church over Plaintiff pressured Plaintiff not to report Father Connolly's sexual abuse of him.

54. At no time did the Diocese ever send an official, a member of the clergy, an investigator or any employee or independent contractor to the Church to advise or provide any form of notice to the parishioners either verbally or in writing that there were credible allegations against Father Connolly and to request that anyone who saw, suspected or suffered sexual abuse to come forward and file a report with the police department. Rather, the Diocese remained silent.

55. At all times material hereto, Father Connolly was under the direct supervision, employ and/or control of the Church.

56. At all times material hereto, Father Connolly was under the direct supervision, employ and/or control of the Diocese.

57. The Church knew and/or reasonably should have known, and/or knowingly condoned, and/or covered up, the inappropriate and unlawful sexual activities of Father Connolly who sexually abused Plaintiff.

58. The Diocese knew and/or reasonably should have known, and/or knowingly condoned, and/or covered up, the inappropriate and unlawful sexual activities of Father Connolly who sexually abused Plaintiff.

59. The Church negligently or recklessly believed that Father Connolly was fit to work with children and/or that any previous problems he had were fixed and cured; that Father Connolly would not sexually molest children; and that Father Connolly would not injure children.

60. The Diocese negligently or recklessly believed that Father Connolly was fit to work with children and/or that any previous problems he had were fixed and cured; that Father Connolly would not sexually molest children; and that Father Connolly would not injure children.

61. The Church had the responsibility to supervise and/or direct priests serving at the Church, and specifically, had a duty not to aid a pedophile such as Father Connolly, by assigning, maintaining and/or appointing him to a position with access to minors.

62. The Diocese had the responsibility to supervise and/or direct priests serving at the Church, and specifically, had a duty not to aid a pedophile such as Father Connolly, by assigning, maintaining and/or appointing him to a position with access to minors.

63. By holding Father Connolly out as safe to work with children, and by undertaking the custody, supervision of, and/or care of the minor Plaintiff, the Church entered into a fiduciary relationship with the minor Plaintiff. As a result of Plaintiff's being a minor, and by the Church undertaking the care and guidance of the vulnerable minor Plaintiff, the Church held a position of empowerment over Plaintiff.

64. By holding Father Connolly out as safe to work with children, and by undertaking the custody, supervision of, and/or care of the minor Plaintiff, the Diocese entered into a fiduciary relationship with the minor Plaintiff. As a result of Plaintiff's being a minor, and by the Diocese undertaking the care and guidance of the vulnerable minor Plaintiff, the Diocese held a position of empowerment over Plaintiff.

65. The Church, by holding itself out as being able to provide a safe environment for children, solicited and/or accepted this position of empowerment. This empowerment prevented the then minor Plaintiff from effectively protecting himself. The Church thus entered into a fiduciary relationship with Plaintiff.

66. The Diocese, by holding itself out as being able to provide a safe environment for children, solicited and/or accepted this position of empowerment. This empowerment prevented the then minor Plaintiff from effectively protecting himself. The Diocese thus entered into a fiduciary relationship with Plaintiff.

67. The Church had a special relationship with Plaintiff.

68. The Diocese had a special relationship with Plaintiff.

69. The Church owed Plaintiff a duty of reasonable care because the Church had superior knowledge about the risk that Father Connolly posed to Plaintiff, the risk of abuse in general in its programs, and/or the risks that its facilities posed to minor children.

70. The Diocese owed Plaintiff a duty of reasonable care because the Diocese had superior knowledge about the risk that Father Connolly posed to Plaintiff, the risk of abuse in general in its programs, and/or the risks that its facilities posed to minor children.

71. The Church owed Plaintiff a duty of reasonable care because it solicited youth and parents for participation in its youth programs; encouraged youth and parents to have the youth participate in its programs; undertook custody of minor children, including Plaintiff; promoted its facilities and programs as being safe for children; held its agents including Father Connolly out as safe to work with children; encouraged parents and children to spend time with its agents; and/or encouraged its agents, including Father Connolly, to spend time with, interact with, and recruit children.

72. The Diocese owed Plaintiff a duty of reasonable care because it solicited youth and parents for participation in its youth programs; encouraged youth and parents to have the youth participate in its programs; undertook custody of minor children, including Plaintiff; promoted its facilities and programs as being safe for children; held its agents including Father Connolly out as safe to work with children; encouraged parents and children to spend time with its agents; and/or encouraged its agents, including Father Connolly, to spend time with, interact with, and recruit children.

73. The Church owed Plaintiff a duty to protect Plaintiff from harm because the Church's actions created a foreseeable risk of harm to Plaintiff.

74. The Diocese owed Plaintiff a duty to protect Plaintiff from harm because the Diocese's actions created a foreseeable risk of harm to Plaintiff.

75. The Church's breach of its duties include, but are not limited to: failure to have sufficient policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse, failure to properly implement the policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse, failure to take reasonable measures to make sure that the policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse were working, failure to adequately inform families and children or the risks of child sexual abuse, failure to investigate risks of child sexual abuse, failure to properly train the workers at institutions and programs within the Church, geographical confines, failure to protect children in its programs from child sexual abuse, failure to adhere to the applicable standard of care for child safety, failure to investigate the amount and type of information necessary to represent the institutions, programs, leaders and people as safe, failure to train its employees properly to identify signs of child molestation by fellow employees, failure by relying on mental health professionals, and/or failure by relying on people who claimed that they could treat child molesters.

76. The Diocese's breach of its duties include, but are not limited to: failure to have sufficient policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse, failure to properly implement the policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse, failure to take reasonable measures to make sure that the policies and procedures to prevent child sexual abuse were working, failure to adequately inform families and children or the risks of child sexual abuse, failure to investigate risks of child sexual abuse, failure to properly train the workers at institutions and programs within the Diocese, geographical confines, failure to protect children in its programs from child sexual abuse, failure to adhere to the applicable standard of care for child safety, failure to investigate the amount and type of information necessary to represent the institutions, programs, leaders and people as safe, failure to train its employees properly to identify signs of child molestation by fellow employees, failure by relying on mental health professionals, and/or failure by relying on people who claimed that they could treat child molesters.

77. The Church also breached its duties to Plaintiff by failing to warn Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family of the risk that Father Connolly posed and the risks of child sexual abuse by clerics.

78. The Church also failed to warn Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family about any of the knowledge that it had about child sexual abuse.

79. The Diocese also breached its duties to Plaintiff by failing to warn Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family of the risk that Father Connolly posed and the risks of child sexual abuse by clerics.

80. The Diocese also failed to warn Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family about any of the knowledge that it had about child sexual abuse.

81. The Church also violated a legal duty by failing to report known and/or suspected abuse of children by Father Connolly and/or its other agents to the police and law enforcement.

82. The Diocese also violated a legal duty by failing to report known and/or suspected abuse of children by Father Connolly and/or its other agents to the police and law enforcement.

83. By employing Father Connolly at the Church, and other facilities within the Diocese, the Diocese, through its agents, affirmatively represented to minor children and their families that Father Connolly did not pose a threat to children, did not have a history of molesting children, that the Diocese did not know that Father Connolly had a history of molesting children, and that the Diocese did not know that Father Connolly was a danger to children.

84. By employing Father Connolly at the Church, the Church through its agents, affirmatively represented to minor children and their families that Father Connolly did not pose a threat to children, did not have a history of molesting children, that the Church did not know that Father Connolly had a history of molesting children, and that the Church did not know that Father Connolly was a danger to children.

85. The Church induced Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family to rely on these representations, and they did rely on them.

86. The Diocese has never publicly admitted the veracity of the allegations against Father Connolly, warned the public and/or conducted outreach to potential victims of his sexual abuse. The pattern and practice of intentionally failing to disclose the identities and locations of sexually inappropriate and/or abusive clerics has been practiced by the Diocese for decades and continues through current day. The failure to disclose the identities of allegedly sexually inappropriate and/or abusive clerics is unreasonable and knowingly or recklessly creates or maintains a condition which endangers the safety or health of a considerable number of members of the public, including Plaintiff.

87. By allowing Father Connolly to remain in active ministry, the Diocese, through its agents, has made and continues to make affirmative representations to minor children and their families, including Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family, that Father Connolly does not pose a threat to children, does not have a history of molesting children, that the Diocese does not know that Father Connolly has a history of molesting children and that the Diocese does not know that Father Connolly is a danger to children.

88. The Diocese induced Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family to rely on these representations, and they did rely on them.

89. By allowing Father Connolly to remain in active ministry, the Church, through its agents, has made and continues to make affirmative representations to minor children and their families, including Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family, that Father Connolly does not pose a threat to children, does not have a history of molesting children, that the Church does not know that Father Connolly has a history of molesting children and that the Church does not know that Father Connolly is a danger to children.

90. The Diocese ignored credible complaints about the sexually abusive behaviors of priests.

91. The Diocese failed to act on obvious warning signs of sexual abuse, including instances where it was aware that priests had children in its private rooms in the rectory overnight, that priests were drinking alcohol with underage children and exposing them to pornography.

92. Even where a priest disclosed sexually abusive behavior with children, Diocese officials failed to act to remove him from ministry.

93. The Diocese engaged in conduct that resulted in the prevention, hinderance and delay in the discovery of criminal conduct by priests.

94. The Diocese conceived and agreed to a plan using deception and intimidation to prevent victims from seeking legal solutions to their problems.

95. As a result of Defendants' conduct described herein, Plaintiff has and will continue to suffer personal physical and psychological injuries, including but not limited to great pain of mind and body, severe and permanent emotional distress, physical manifestations of emotional distress, problems sleeping, concentrating, low self-confidence, low self-respect, low self-esteem, feeling of worthlessness, feeling shameful, and embarrassed, feeling alone and isolated, losing faith in God, losing faith in authority figures, feeling estranged from the church, struggling with alcohol and substance problems, struggling with gainful employment and career advancement, feeling helpless, and hopeless, problems with sexual intimacy, relationship problems, trust issues, feeling confused and angry, depression, anxiety, feeling dirty, used, and damaged, suicidal ideations, having traumatic flashbacks, feeling that his childhood and innocence was stolen. Plaintiff was prevented and will continue to be prevented from performing Plaintiff's normal daily activities; has incurred and will continue to incur expenses for medical and psychological treatment, therapy, and counseling; and, on information and belief, has incurred and will continue to incur loss of income and/or loss of earning capacity. As a victim of Defendants' misconduct, Plaintiff is unable at this time to fully describe all the details of that abuse and the extent of the harm Plaintiff suffered as a result.

96. The Church violated various New York statutes, including, but not limited to N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law §§ 413 and 420, which require, inter alia, school officials, teachers, day care center workers, providers of family or group family day care, and any other child care worker to report suspected cases of child abuse and impose liability for failure to report.

97. The Diocese violated various New York statutes, including, but not limited to N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law §§ 413 and 420, which require, inter alia, school officials, teachers, day care center workers, providers of family or group family day care, and any other child care worker to report suspected cases of child abuse and impose liability for failure to report.

98. The injuries and damages suffered by Plaintiff are specific in kind to Plaintiff, special, peculiar, and above and beyond those injuries and damages suffered by the public.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION: NEGLIGENCE

99. Plaintiff repeats and realleges by reference each and every allegation set forth above as if fully set forth herein.

100. The Church knew or was negligent in not knowing that Father Connolly posed a threat of sexual abuse to children.

101. The Diocese knew or was negligent in not knowing that Father Connolly posed a threat of sexual abuse to children.

102. The acts of Father Connolly described hereinabove were undertaken, and/or enabled by, and/or during the course, and/or within the scope of his employment, appointment, and/or agency with the Church.

103. The acts of Father Connolly described hereinabove were undertaken, and/or enabled by, and/or during the course, and/or within the scope of his employment, appointment, and/or agency with the Diocese.

104. The Church owed Plaintiff a duty to protect Plaintiff from Father Connolly's sexual deviancy, both prior to and/or subsequent to Father Connolly's misconduct.

105. The Diocese owed Plaintiff a duty to protect Plaintiff from Father Connolly's sexual deviancy, both prior to and/or subsequent to Father Connolly's misconduct.

106. The Church's willful, wanton, grossly negligent and/or negligent act(s) of commission and/or omission, resulted directly and/or proximately in the damages set forth herein at length.

107. The Diocese's willful, wanton, grossly negligent and/or negligent act(s) of commission and/or omission, resulted directly and/or proximately in the damages set forth herein at length.

108. At all times material hereto, with regard to the allegations contained herein, Father Connolly was under the direct supervision, employ and/or control of the Church.

109. At all times material hereto, with regard to the allegations contained herein, Father Connolly was under the direct supervision, employ and/or control of the Diocese.

110. At all times material hereto, the Church's actions were willful, wanton, malicious, reckless, grossly negligent and outrageous in its disregard for the rights and safety of Plaintiff.

111. At all times material hereto, the Diocese's actions were willful, wanton, malicious, reckless, grossly negligent and outrageous in its disregard for the rights and safety of Plaintiff.

112. As a direct and/or indirect result of said conduct, Plaintiff has suffered the injuries and damages described herein.

113. By reason of the foregoing, Defendants, jointly, severally and/or in the alternative, are liable to Plaintiff for compensatory damages, and for punitive damages, together with interest and costs.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION: NEGLIGENT HIRING, RETENTION, SUPERVISION, AND/OR DIRECTION

114. Plaintiff repeats and realleges by reference each and every allegation set forth above as if fully set forth herein.

115. The Church hired Father Connolly.

116. The Diocese hired Father Connolly.

117. The Church hired Father Connolly for a position that required him to work closely with, mentor, and counsel young boys and girls.

118. Diocese hired Father Connolly for a position that required him to work closely with, mentor, and counsel young boys and girls.

119. The Church was negligent in hiring Father Connolly because it knew or should have known, through the exercise of reasonable care, of Father Connolly's propensity to develop inappropriate relationships with children in its charge and to engage in sexual behavior and lewd and lascivious conduct with such children.

120. The Diocese was negligent in hiring Father Connolly because it knew or should have known, through the exercise of reasonable care, of Father Connolly's propensity to develop inappropriate relationships with children in its charge and to engage in sexual behavior and lewd and lascivious conduct with such children.

121. Father Connolly would not and could not have been in a position to sexually abuse Plaintiff had he not been hired by the Church to mentor and counsel children in the Church.

123. Father Connolly would not and could not have been in a position to sexually abuse Plaintiff had he not been hired by Diocese to mentor and counsel children in the Church.

124. The harm complained of herein was foreseeable.

125. Plaintiff would not have suffered the foreseeable harm complained of herein but for the negligence of the Church in having placed Father Connolly, and/or allowed Father Connolly to remain in his position.

126. Plaintiff would not have suffered the foreseeable harm complained of herein but for the negligence of the Diocese in having placed Father Connolly, and/or allowed Father Connolly to remain in his position.

127. At all times while Father Connolly was employed or appointed by the Church, he was supervised by the Church and/or its agents and employees.

128. At all times while Father Connolly was employed or appointed by the Church, he was under the direction of, and/or answerable to, the Church and/or its agents and employees.

129. At all times while Father Connolly was employed or appointed by the Diocese, he was supervised by the Diocese and/or its agents and employees.

130. At all times while Father Connolly was employed or appointed by the Diocese, he was under the direction of, and/or answerable to, the Diocese and/or its agents and employees.

131. The Church was negligent in its direction and/or supervision of Father Connolly in that it knew or should have known, through the exercise of ordinary care, that Father Connolly's conduct would subject third parties to an unreasonable risk of harm, including Father Connolly's propensity to develop inappropriate relationships with children under his charge and to engage in sexual behavior and lewd and lascivious conduct with such children.

132. The Church failed to take steps to prevent such conduct from occurring.

133. The Diocese was negligent in its direction and/or supervision of Father Connolly in that it knew, or should have known, through the exercise of ordinary care, that Father Connolly's conduct would subject third parties to an unreasonable risk of harm, including Father Connolly's propensity to develop inappropriate relationships with children under his charge and to engage in sexual behavior and lewd and lascivious conduct with such children.

134. The Diocese failed to take steps to prevent such conduct from occurring.

135. The Church was negligent in its retention of Father Connolly in that that it knew, or should have known, through the exercise of reasonable care, of his propensity to develop inappropriate relationships with children under his charge and to engage in sexual behavior and lewd and lascivious conduct with such children.

136. The Church retained Father Connolly in his position as mentor and counselor to such children and thus left him in a position to continue such behavior.

137. The Diocese was negligent in its retention of Father Connolly in that it knew, or should have known, through the exercise of reasonable care, of his propensity to develop inappropriate relationships with children under his charge and to engage in sexual behavior and lewd and lascivious conduct with such children.

138. The Diocese retained Father Connolly in his position as mentor and counselor to such children and thus left him in a position to continue such behavior.

139. The Church was further negligent in its retention, supervision, and/or direction of Father Connolly in that Father Connolly sexually molested Plaintiff on the premises of the Church.

140. The Church failed to take reasonable steps to prevent such events from occurring on its premises.

141. The Diocese was further negligent in its retention, supervision, and/or direction of Father Connolly in that Father Connolly sexually molested Plaintiff on the premises of the Diocese.

142. The Diocese failed to take reasonable steps to prevent such events from occurring on its premises.

143. Father Connolly would not and could not have been in a position to sexually abuse Plaintiff had he not been negligently retained, supervised, and/or directed by the Church as a mentor and counselor to the infant parishioners of the Church, including Plaintiff.

144. Father Connolly would not and could not have been in a position to sexually abuse Plaintiff had he not been negligently retained, supervised, and/or directed by the Diocese as a mentor and counselor to the infant parishioners of the Diocese, including Plaintiff.

145. By reason of the foregoing, Defendants, jointly, severally and/or in the alternative, are liable to Plaintiff for compensatory damages, and for punitive damages, together with interest and costs.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION: BREACH OF FIDUCIARY DUTY

147. Through the position to which Father Connolly was assigned by the Church, Father Connolly was placed in direct contact with Plaintiff.

148. Father Connolly was assigned as a priest at the Church, including as a teacher assigned to teach Plaintiff.

149. It was under these circumstances that Plaintiff was entrusted to the care of the Church and - under its authority - came to be under the direction, control and dominance of, Father Connolly.

151. Through the position to which Father Connolly was assigned by the Diocese, Father Connolly was put in direct contact with Plaintiff, then a minor.

153. There existed a fiduciary relationship of trust, confidence, and reliance between Plaintiff and the Church.

154. There existed a fiduciary relationship of trust, confidence, and reliance between Plaintiff and the Diocese.

155. Pursuant to its fiduciary relationship, the Church was entrusted with the well-being, care, and safety of Plaintiff.

156. Pursuant to its fiduciary relationship, the Diocese was entrusted with the well-being, care, and safety of Plaintiff.

157. Pursuant to its fiduciary relationship, the Church assumed a duty to act in the best interests of Plaintiff.

158. Pursuant to its fiduciary relationship, the Diocese assumed a duty to act in the best interests of Plaintiff.

159. The Church breached its fiduciary duties to Plaintiff.

160. The Diocese breached its fiduciary duties to Plaintiff.

161. At all times material hereto, the Church's actions and/or inactions were willful, wanton, malicious, reckless, grossly negligent and/or outrageous in its disregard for the rights and safety of Plaintiff.

162. At all times material hereto, the Diocese's actions and/or inactions were willful, wanton, malicious, reckless, grossly negligent and/or outrageous in its disregard for the rights and safety of Plaintiff.

163. As a direct result of said conduct, Plaintiff has suffered the injuries and damages described herein.

164. By reason of the foregoing, Defendants, jointly, severally and/or in the alternative, are liable to Plaintiff for compensatory and punitive damages, together with interest and costs.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION: BREACH OF NON-DELEGABLE DUTY

166. Plaintiff, when a minor, was placed in the care of the Church for the purposes of, inter alia, providing Plaintiff with a safe environment to receive an education.

167. As a result, there existed a non-delegable duty of trust between Plaintiff and the Church.

168. When Plaintiff was a minor, Plaintiff was placed in the care of the Diocese for the purposes of, inter alia, providing Plaintiff with a safe environment to receive an education.

169. As a result, there existed a non-delegable duty of trust between Plaintiff and the Diocese.

170. Plaintiff was a vulnerable child when placed within the care of the Church.

171. Plaintiff was a vulnerable child when placed within the care of the Diocese.

172. Consequently, the Church was in the best position to prevent Plaintiff's abuse, and to learn of Father Connolly's repeated sexual abuse of Plaintiff and stop it.

173. Consequently, the Diocese was in the best position to prevent Plaintiff's abuse, and to learn of Father Connolly's repeated sexual abuse of Plaintiff and stop it.

174. By virtue of the fact that Plaintiff was sexually abused as a minor student entrusted to the care of the Church, the Church breached its non-delegable duty to Plaintiff.

175. By virtue of the fact that Plaintiff was sexually abused as a minor student entrusted to the care of the Diocese, the Diocese breached its non-delegable duty to Plaintiff.

176. At all times material hereto, Father Connolly was under the direct supervision, employ and/or control of the Church.

177. At all times material hereto, Father Connolly was under the direct supervision, employ and/or control of the Diocese.

178. As a direct result of said conduct, Plaintiff has suffered the injuries and damages described herein.

179. By reason of the foregoing, Defendants, jointly, severally and/or in the alternative, are liable to Plaintiff for compensatory and punitive damages, together with interest and costs.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION: BREACH OF DUTY *IN LOCO PARENTIS

180. Plaintiff repeats and realleges by reference each and every allegation set forth above as if fully set forth herein.

181. Plaintiff was a minor when his parents entrusted him to the control of the Church for the purpose of, inter alia, providing Plaintiff with an education.

182. The Church owed a duty to adequately supervise its students to prevent foreseeable harms and injuries.

183. As a result, the Church owed a duty to Plaintiff in loco parentis.

184. Plaintiff was a minor when his parents entrusted him to the control of the Diocese for the purposes of, inter alia, providing Plaintiff with an education.

185. The Diocese owed a duty to adequately supervise its students to prevent foreseeable injuries.

186. As a result, the Diocese owed a duty to Plaintiff in loco parentis.

187. The Church breached its duty in loco parentis.

188. The Diocese breached its duty in loco parentis.

189. At all times material hereto, the Church's actions were willful, wanton, malicious, reckless, negligent, grossly negligent and/or outrageous in its disregard for the rights and safety of Plaintiff.

190. At all times material hereto, the Diocese's actions were willful, wanton, malicious, reckless, negligent, grossly negligent and/or outrageous in its disregard for the rights and safety of Plaintiff.

191. As a direct result of the Church's conduct, Plaintiff has suffered the injuries and damages described herein.

192. As a direct result of the Diocese's conduct, Plaintiff has suffered the injuries and damages described herein.

193. By reason of the foregoing, Defendants, jointly, severally and/or in the alternative, are liable to Plaintiff for compensatory and punitive damages, together with interest and costs.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION: INTENTIONAL INFILCTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

194. Plaintiff repeats and realleges by reference each and every allegation set forth above as if fully set forth herein.

195. At the time Father Connolly molested Plaintiff, which Father Connolly knew would cause, or disregarded the substantial probability that it would cause, severe emotional distress, the Church employed Father Connolly as Plaintiff's mentor and counselor.

196. It was part of Father Connolly's job as role model and mentor to gain Plaintiff's trust. Father Connolly used his position, and the representations made by the Church about his character that accompanied that position, to gain Plaintiff's trust and confidence and to create opportunities to violate Plaintiff.

197. At the time Father Connolly molested Plaintiff, which Father Connolly knew would cause, or disregarded the substantial probability that it would cause, severe emotional distress, the Diocese employed Father Connolly as Plaintiff's mentor and counselor.

198. It was part of Father Connolly's job as role model and mentor to gain Plaintiff's trust. Father Connolly used his position, and the representations made by the Diocese about his character that accompanied that position, to gain Plaintiff's trust and confidence and to create opportunities to violate Plaintiff.

199. The Church knew and/or disregarded the substantial probability that Father Connolly's conduct would cause severe emotional distress to Plaintiff.

200. The Diocese knew and/or disregarded the substantial probability that Father Connolly's conduct would cause severe emotional distress to Plaintiff.

201. Plaintiff suffered severe emotional distress, including psychological and emotional injury as described above.

202. This distress was caused by Father Connolly's sexual abuse of Plaintiff.

203. The sexual abuse of Plaintiff was extreme and outrageous conduct, beyond all possible bounds of decency, atrocious and intolerable in a civilized community.

204. The Church is liable for Father Connolly's conduct under the doctrine of respondeat superior.

205. The Diocese is liable for Father Connolly's conduct under the doctrine of respondeat superior.

SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION: NEGLIGENT INFILCTION OF

207. Plaintiff repeats and realleges by reference each and every allegation set forth above as if fully set forth herein.

208. As set forth at length herein, the actions of the Church, its predecessors and/or successors, agents, servants and/or employees, were conducted in a negligent and/or grossly negligent manner.

209. As set forth at length herein, the actions of the Diocese, its predecessors and/or successors, agents, servants and/or employees were conducted in a negligent and/or grossly negligent manner.

210. The Church's actions endangered Plaintiff's safety and caused him to fear for his own safety.

211. The Diocese's actions endangered Plaintiff's safety and caused him to fear for his own safety.

212. As a direct and proximate result of the Church's actions, which included but were not limited to, negligent and/or grossly negligent conduct, Plaintiff suffered the severe injuries and damages described herein, including but not limited to, mental and emotional distress.

213. As a direct and proximate result of the Diocese's actions, which included but were not limited to, negligent and/or grossly negligent conduct, Plaintiff suffered the severe injuries and damages described herein, including but not limited to, mental and emotional distress.

214. In addition to its own direct liability for negligently inflicting emotional distress on Plaintiff, the Church is also liable for Father Connolly's negligent infliction of emotional distress under the doctrine of respondeat superior.

215. At the time Father Connolly breached his duty to Plaintiff, Father Connolly was employed as Plaintiff's mentor and counselor by the Church.

216. It was part of Father Connolly's job as role model and mentor to gain Plaintiff's trust. Father Connolly used his position, and the representations made by the Church about his character that accompanied that position, to gain Plaintiff's trust and confidence and to create opportunities to be alone with and touch Plaintiff.

217. In addition to its own direct liability for negligently inflicting emotional distress on Plaintiff, the Diocese is also liable for Father Connolly's negligent infliction of emotional distress under the doctrine of respondeat superior.

218. At the time Father Connolly breached his duty to Plaintiff, Father Connolly was employed as Plaintiff's mentor and counselor by the Diocese.

219. It was part of Father Connolly's job as role model and mentor to gain Plaintiff's trust. Father Connolly used his position, and the representations made by the Diocese about his character that accompanied that position, to gain Plaintiff's trust and confidence and to create opportunities to be alone with and touch Plaintiff.

220. By reason of the foregoing, Defendants, jointly, severally and/or in the alternative, are liable to Plaintiff for compensatory damages and punitive damages, together with interest and costs.

EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION: BREACH OF STATUTORY DUTY TO REPORT
ABUSE UNDER SOC. SERV. LAW §§ 413 and 420

221. Plaintiff repeats and realleges by reference each and every allegation set forth above as if fully set forth herein.

222. Pursuant to N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law §§ 413 and 420, the Church, including but not limited to its teachers, administrators, and other school personnel, had a statutorily imposed duty to report reasonable suspicion of abuse of children in its care.

223. Pursuant to N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law §§ 413 and 420, the Diocese, including but not limited to its teachers, administrators, and other school personnel, had a statutorily imposed duty to report reasonable suspicion of abuse of children in its care.

224. The Church breached that duty by knowingly and willfully failing to report reasonable suspicion of abuse by Father Connolly of children in its care.

225. The Diocese breached that duty by knowingly and willfully failing to report reasonable suspicion of abuse by Father Connolly of children in its care.

226. As a direct and/or indirect result of said conduct, Plaintiff has suffered injuries and damages described herein.

227. By reason of the foregoing, Defendants, jointly, severally and/or in the alternative, are liable to plaintiff for compensatory damages, and for punitive damages, together with interest and costs.

228. The limitations of liability set forth in Article 16 of the CPLR do not apply to the causes of action alleged herein.

WHEREFORE, it is respectfully requested that the Court grant judgment in this action in favor of the Plaintiff, and against the Defendants, in a sum of money in excess of the jurisdictional limits of all lower courts which would otherwise have jurisdiction, together with all applicable interest, costs, disbursements, as well as punitive damages and such other, further and different relief as the Court in its discretion shall deem to be just, proper and equitable.

Plaintiff further places Defendants on notice and reserves the right to interpose claims sounding in Fraudulent Concealment, Deceptive Practices and/or Civil Conspiracy should the facts and discovery materials support such claims.
